

Lawrence Technological University's Center for Nonprofit Management is pleased to offer:

"Share to Succeed"
A Learning Circle for Nonprofit Financial Executives

Held Bi-Monthly at Lawrence Tech University
21000 W. 10 Mile Rd
Southfield, MI 48075
Buell Building

[Free registration]

Join This group of CFO's and executive financial staff from local nonprofit organizations who meet regularly for informal conversations over coffee to discuss common challenges, share best practices and provide tips.

Discussion Leader:

Robert Seestadt, Chief Financial Officer, Detroit Science Center.
Email: rseestadt@sciencedetroit.org
Phone: (313) 577-8400 ext, 442

Host:

Jerry Lindman, J.D. Director
Center for Nonprofit Management at Lawrence Tech University
Email: lindman@ltu.edu
Phone: (248) 204-3095

What is a Learning Circle?

A Learning Circle is a series of voluntary, self-directed group discussions on a particular topic which honors and organizes the collective wisdom of the group. The shared thinking has shown to bring forth new information, best practices and solutions related to the topic.

Who Should Attend?

CFO's and senior financial executives currently or recently employed at a nonprofit organization.

Why Should I Attend?

To discuss, share, listen, and enjoy the company of your peers in financial leadership positions at nonprofit organizations in Southeast Michigan.

Cost: FREE

RSVP: Send email to mnpcenter@ltu.edu or call (248) 204-3095.

For more information, contact Robert Seestadt or Jerry Lindman (see above). 8-21-07